FACTORS CRIMINOGENI OF AMERICAN SCHOOL:

- the unpreparedness, especially science subjects, teachers characterized more about the method that the substance of education; - the endemic indiscipline, the irresponsibility of families and students (with the exacerbations, in the metropolis, drugs and violence against property and persons);
- the devastation of curricula through the optional courses, which have replaced the basic disciplines of the most strange subjects, depriving students of a comprehensive and systematic knowledge, and through extracurricular activities inconclusive;
- I 'tougher sentences, the excessive ease with which ends in prison and they administer psychotropic drugs;
- lack of health care free for all, the economic crisis and the profound gap between goals and means cultural and materials.

I FATTORI CRIMINOGENI DELLA SCUOLA AMERICANA:

- l'impreparazione, specie sulle materie scientifiche, dei docenti caratterizzati più sul metodo che sulla sostanza dell'insegnamento;
- l'indisciplina endemica, l'irresponsabilità delle famiglie e degli studenti (con gli aggravamenti, nelle metropoli, della droga e della violenza contro le cose e le persone);
- la devastazione dei curricula attraverso i corsi facoltativi, che hanno sostituito alle discipline di base le più strane materie, privando lo studente di un sapere organico e sistematico, e attraverso inconcludenti attività extrascolastiche;
- l'inasprimento delle pene, l'eccessiva facilità con cui si finisce in carcere e con cui si somministrano psicofarmaci;
- la mancanza di assistenza sanitaria gratuita per tutti, la crisi economica e il profondo divario tra le mete ed i mezzi culturali e materiali.
